Adjunct Faculty Positions in College Algebra

The Bloomfield College Natural Science and Mathematics Division has a number of sections of College Algebra that need instructors for the Spring 2015 semester. The semester begins on January 15, 2015.

Most classes are at the freshman level, meet Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, and are supported by mandatory review sessions on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Instructors have the choice of teaching both the class and the support sessions or having the support sessions directed by another individual.

If interested, please send cover letter, resume, and three references to Mike Schiro at Mike_Schiro@bloomfield.edu.

Bloomfield College, founded in 1868, is an independent, four-year institution located 10 miles west of NYC in Essex County, NJ, and easily accessible by auto (Garden State Parkway, Exit 148/149) or public transportation from New Jersey or NYC (De Camp buses # 33 and 88).